DEDICATION

TITLE — "The Good News of Salvation"

CHAPTERS — Student life, high school teacher, academy principal, professor of courses as varied as chemistry and modern languages, librarian.

CONTENTS — Pages and pages of faithful, unflagging labor over the books he loves.

THEME — Unstinting, ever-willing service.

STYLE — Self-effacing and good-humored, courteous and quietly efficient.

INDEX — A well-organized mind stored with accurate information, readily accessible.

The whole volume bound together with a high sense of Christian duty and utterly reliable consistency in carrying it out.

Because our appreciation of good books has been increased and heightened by his inspiring devotion to them, we take great pleasure in dedicating this, the 1954 NAUTILUS to

Professor Evangelos Soteriades

PREFACE

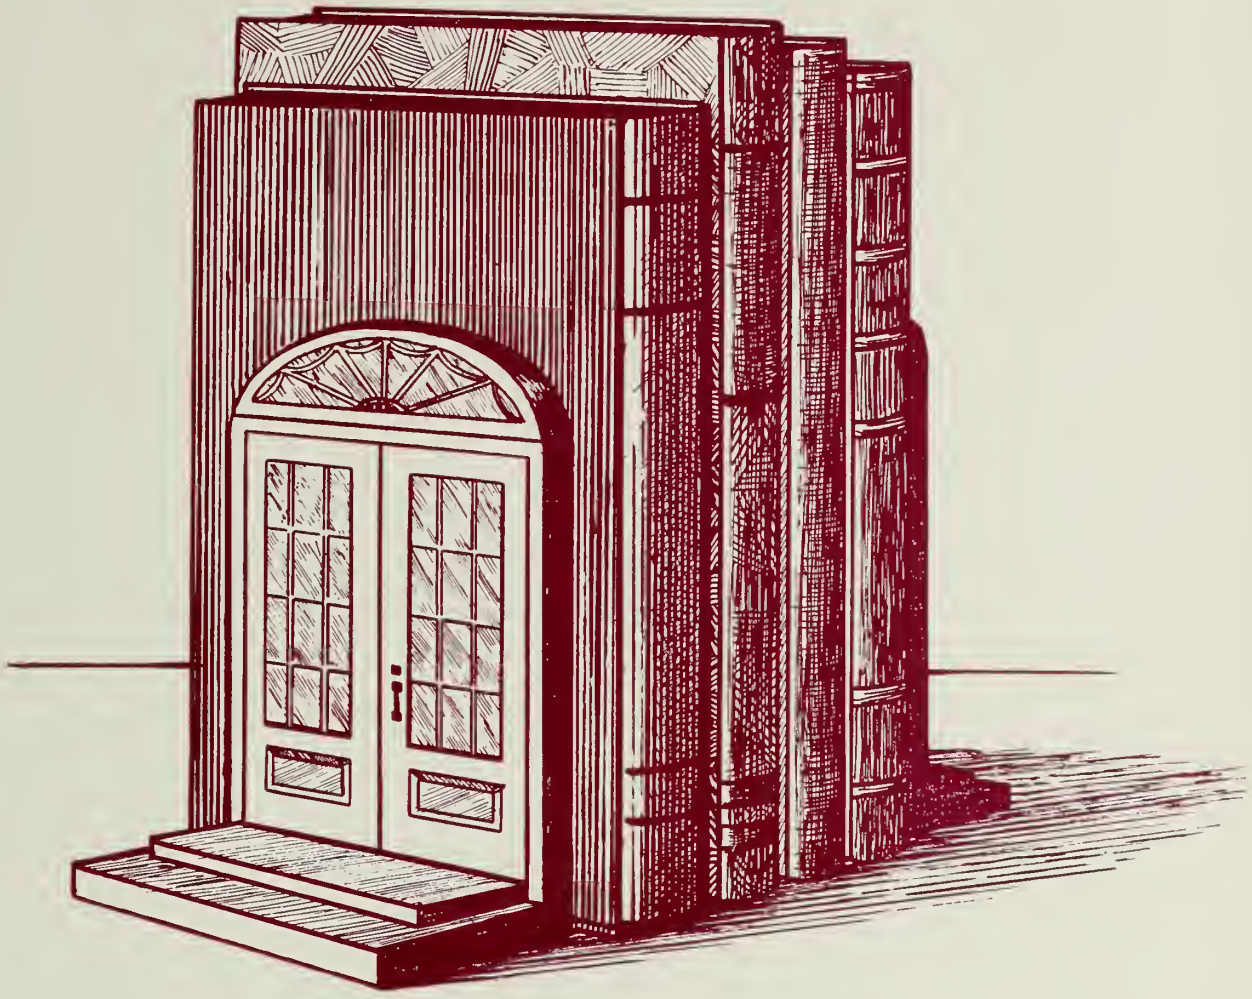
From the first day we stepped through the doors of E.N.C., books have been the challenge, the stimulus, the entire business of our life. The story of our college years might be told in four volumes — Our Textbook, Our Record Book, Our Book of Memories, and Our Book of Life.

As textbooks are the foundation of academic subjects, so our faculty members present a fundamental source of information on life at its potential best. They are Our Textbook — "living epistles known and read of all men."

Our record Book is more than a mere list of names. It recalls for us permanently the faces of those who sat next to us in class, studied with us in the library, and lived near us in the dormitory. Also written there are our scholastic records which remind us of the real purpose of our college days — preparation for future usefulness.

Preserved forever in Our Book of Memories are the good times we had together at E.N.C. The tingling vitality of an autumn outing, the last tense moments of a championship game, the good fellowship of hearty laughter and quiet conversation — all are captured for us to relive again and again as we turn the pages.

There is a volume that is the index to them all. The truth it contains has been the inspiration, and the guiding star of our college. We purpose that it shall also be ours. Whether we are working, playing, studying, or trying to apply the Golden Rule to problems of everyday life, we are expressing the same reverent enthusiasm for the book which is for us indeed — Our Book of Life.



"The true University . . . is a Collection of Books."

Carlyle

"The love of learning . . . and the serenity of books . . ."

Our President's Message

There are no more vital years in life than those spent on the campus of a Christian college. It is here that lessons are learned, horizons are broadened, friendships are formed and decisions are made which affect all the after years. The Christian student is presented with abundant opportunity to think great thoughts and dream great dreams. He explores new fields of knowledge under the careful guidance of his tutors, exchanges new ideas with his fellow students, and tries to relate all he learns to his Christian faith.

The ever-present necessity of earning a living while studying makes the pursuit of a college education a strenuous assignment. But the Christian student knows that all that is worth while in life comes only as the result of toil and struggle. He learns to accept every task as a challenge and to fulfill every obligation with painstaking care. He becomes a responsible person, facing all of the problems and demands of life with courage and fortitude.

It is this happy combination of the theoretical and the practical which makes life at E.N.C. so rewarding. The student who, despite the rigorous experience, perseveres to the successful completion of his college course will find himself adequately prepared for life. He will have deep within him the abiding conviction that, with Christ, he can be "more than conquerer."

ADMINISTRATIVE EXECUTIVES

BERTHA MUNRO

A.M.

Dean of the College

Literature

"A good book is the precious life-blood of a master-spirit, embalmed and treasured up on purpose to a Life beyond life."

Our beloved Dean is a constant inspiration to each of us with her Christ-like patience, her sincere humility, and her nobility of soul. She is a faithful administrator; possessing keen discernment and depth of wisdom. Her life is dedicated to God, to E.N.C., to others. Her way of life — "Trust and Obey" — "Blessed are the pure in heart . . ."

ALVIN H. KAUFFMAN

Ph.D.

Assistant Dean of the College

Philosophy and Psychology

"He fed his spirit with the bread of books, and slaked his thirst at all the wells of thought."

Our new Assistant Dean is already filling a very important place in the life of E.N.C., as a wise administrator, excellent teacher, and helpful counsellor. A perfectionist, Dean Kauffman believes that Christianity applied to practical problems makes for efficiency-plus. An excellent pianist and artist, he has put his ten talents to full use only "that His name might be glorified."

MR. MADELINE NEASE

A.B.

Registrar

"The world may sound no trumpet, ring no bells;

The book of life the shining record tells."

Her deep devotion to God and E.N.C. explains our registrar's long hours of devoted service and faithful diligence in the endless round of tasks which are her lot.

We marvel at her calmness in the midst of piles of grade-cards, conflicts in schedules, and class attendance records. Her personal interest in the student has won for her a place in the hearts of all who know her.

CLAUDE C. SCHLOSSER

A.B.

Business Manager

"Begin by reading thyself rather than books."

Apparently never ruffled, Mr. Schlosser directs the finances of E.N.C. with efficiency. We will remember his thought-provoking chapel talks, his ever-ready greeting, and hearty laugh.

Enthusiastic in all he does, his life is a well-balanced combination of cheerful acceptance of duty and "time-out" for recreation and relaxation. A familiar figure at the latest campus sports events, he is genuinely interested in every phase of student life.

STEPHEN W. NEASE

A.B., Th.B.

Executive Field Secretary

"The wise are above books."

Our "public relations" man exemplifies the maxim "Holiness is religious principle put into motion." True to Nease tradition, he has upheld the cause of E.N.C. and of God.

Representative of the college's purposes and practices are his quartet travels, his habit of getting things done, his friendly boyish grin, his happy family life — and most of all, his growth in the Spirit.

To successfully maintain a steadfast, Christian life while attaining high scholastic achievement — these are the goals of Phi Delta Lambda and the College Honor Society. The successful combination of these objectives permits the individual to live a triumphant Christian life of service.

The students who belong to the College Honor Society have not reached the end, but have laid the groundwork for a rich, intellectual life. They have taken advantage of the purposes of Eastern Nazarene College — academic training grounded in Christian truth. By securing membership, these students have enabled E.N.C. to maintain her high level of scholarship among her sister institutions.

Eligibility for membership in Phi Delta Lambda requires that the student be in the upper 15% of his graduating class. Phi Delta Lambda seeks to promote a close relationship between the graduate and undergraduate. Under Prof. Louise Dygoski, the graduate society has promoted Book Club meetings, made loans to graduate students, and sponsored a chapel during this year.

GRADUATES IN THEOLOGY

In order that they might be better prepared to "preach the gospel to every creature . . .," these students have completed an additional year to their college training with theological emphasis. They have accepted the challenge of Christ's call and have determined to be armed with the whole armor of God.

Following His leadings and seeking His will, becomes their guiding principle in their quest for further truth. Knowledge and its relationship to winning souls for the kingdom manifests itself in their aims and purposes.

"Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him."

As the organ peals out "Pomp and Circumstance" we suddenly realize that it is all over. Within a few minutes the diploma will be in our hands; we will be among the Alumni.

Father Time says we may delay no longer; life is waiting "that we may conquer." But we long to linger o'er our happy memories together. Can we ever forget our first Junior-Senior Day when we trembled down the aisle in our tan and rose suits? Remember how the wind blew around the big rock where we had our first Junior outing — and the hamburger that tasted like the grill?

Mr. and Mrs. Mullen have been superb counselors. They helped us try to guess who baked the cookies at the Fall outing. And the Mystery Ride was best of all. We'll always remember Prof. Mullen playing "Winkem."

The Senior Trip was a happy interlude, thanks to the wise planning of Quent and Beth. The devotions around the fireplace at the Elms sealed our hearts together.

As honored guests on Junior-Senior Day we began to feel that "pruning hook of time"; and here we were. The Dean was rising to present us to the President as candidates for graduation. We stood together and realized with joy that we are and shall be "Conquerors through Him."

FUN-O

(Tune: "Bimbo")

Bus-o, Bus-o, when you gonna come-co?
Henry, Henry, you're a little slow-eo.
Seniors, Seniors, he comes and off we go
Up to "The Elms," on the Senior trip-eo.

Hutch and Rose crashed through the fence,
Tom, Quent and Prof. upset.
Toboggans flew right through the air
And Shirley and Norm got wet.
Doreen and Joe and Bob and Joan
Went gliding over the ice.
Riggleman's fleas did not behave.
While Wave scramed out "The mice!"

Heav-o! Heavo! Johnson and Kelley-O
Nurse-o, Ruthie! Quick! bring the medico.
Ada, Carolyn, Shutterbugs-eo.
Harley, Don, John set a little pool-eo.

Marie and Marge wobbled on skates
Grace, Mildred, and Beth zipped by.
Dorise, and Red shot many a view
When down the shute they'd fly.
Coghill and Morse took quite a jar,
Eby and Prof.'s wife too.
Duncan and Nola were sliding on sleds.
While Evelyn—What'd she do- (Ouch!)

Bump-o, bump-o, down the fast toboggan-o.
Flippo, floppo, on the skating pond-eo.
Pool-o, hike-o, televideo.
Now we're home to get a little sleep-eo.

MILDRED BYE

OUR SENIOR RECITALISTS did a wonderful job of representing us in the arts this year. Jim Young's big bass voice thrilled us as he gave an excellent presensation of "The Trumpet Shall Sound" from the Messiah, accompanied by Professor Willwerth's trumpet.

Waveline Trout, assisted by Shirley Haselton at the piano and organ, and a chanting chorus of ten members led by John Rigden, gave a stirring presentation of the drama Antigone. We will surely never forget Antigone's courageous defiance of Creon, the cruel king!

CITALISTS

NOLA SKILLINGS

JOAN STRATTON

ELIZABETH GOODNOW

Nola Skillings' piano and organ recital followed a nature theme, including Rimsky-Korsakov's The Flight of the Bumblebee, and other top-notch selections. Helen Johnson ably assisted her with readings related to the musical selections.

Beth Goodnow and Joan Stratton both gave marvelous performances in their combined recital. Beth's wonderful piano and organ selections from Bach through Chopin into the modern period were equaled by the finesse Joan gave to her readings.

Long - remembered will be Thelma Roberts Sunberg's piano recital for her interpretation of Debussy's "Clair de Lune" and MacDowell's "Witches Dance."

Mildred Bye's piano and organ recital enhanced our appreciation of great music in her rendition of Beethoven's Sonata in E Major and Chopin's "Troisieme Ballade."

Upperclassmen at last!

Sitting closer to the front in chapel, acting hosts and hostesses in the dining hall, and executing campus offices all signified that we had arrived.

We were plunged very early into a busy year of planning and preparation for the Thanksgiving chapel program.

We were almost reminded of Freshman initiation when we got up so early in the morning to see the Seniors off to their winter wonderland. But we were wonderfully repaid at our reception at their return.

The climax of our year, however, was Junior-Senior Day, when our dreams were finally realized and our hard work repaid. The outing and the banquet are now only memories stored in the treasury of our minds.

With a throb of sentiment we watched the Seniors file past with their diplomas, and we were reminded that all too soon we would be following in their footsteps.

What an initiation day! Some of the old timers eonsidered it a slight return to the "good ole days." The frosh were rather eonvinced that we were upper elassmen at the end of a kinda' wet day.

"The rock bound eoast" was a beautiful spot for our annual fall outing. The dark windswept rocks of Nantasket was an ideal setting for our food, fun and fellowship.

Memories are great things — Shan't philosophize, but the Monday evening prayer services were times of enlightenment and sweet release from the helter-skelter of eollege life.

Known as "wise fools" for one year hasn't been so wonderful, but we are eontent in the knowledge that we will soon be Juniors.

With timidity and perplexity, but not without anticipation we started our new adventure a year ago.

Freshman tests really proved to us how much we didn't know, and registration lines gave us a chance to get acquainted.

But it wasn't until after the drenched clothes and wastepaper cans which we used for carrying our books were put away along with the medicines used to swab throats which were sore from numerous recitations of ALMA MATER, that we really felt like freshmen.

We soon made the first hurdles as we took our first Western Civ. exam and passed in our first Rhetoric theme.

Chapel, Frosh-Soph outings, the Greenbook, and class prayermeetings filled a busy year. As we look back, we are reminded that our "memories are the diary that we all carry about with us."

Finishing our secondary education in the shadows of collegiate life, the academy students have had a year of success and achievement. Through the fellowship of Christian teachers and students, we have started our quest for truth and service to the Master.

Aeademy activities throughout the year have included the annual fall breakfast at Merrymount park and weekly Monday evening prayer meetings. Times of fellowship with the Camerons, faculty advisors, have been especially memorable.

With Prexy Bill Yeager wielding the gavel, the Student Council swung into action early in the semester by giving an enthusiastic welcome to the frosh. Few days passed before Dog-patch posters captioned, "Gals — Get Your Guys" appeared. The scramble for dates which followed was climaxed with the Sadie Hawkins Party held at the Fore-River Club House. Lil' Abner and Daisy Mae were kept busy awarding prizes to the creators of onion corsages, and profs with their faces smeared with custard pies.

Christmas vacation was off to a good start following the semi-formal banquet held in the dining hall. An extra pre-banquet feature was the election of a King and Queen.

Late in the spring another semi-formal party provided the last social gathering of the student body this year.

This year the Student Council has stimulated pep-rallies for the Gordon games, helped enforce library quietness, initiated the support of a European orphan, started monthly singspirations, helped provide new games for the parlor, revised the society point system, sponsored "Talent Night," and during the second semester has provided decorations and programs once a month during the dinner hour.

It seems only yesterday that it was September and that the Nautilus was just a dream for 1954. The offiee had that well-kept business look that did not wish to be disturbed by a hubbub of flash pietures, advertising eontraets, and miseellaneous strips of eardboard. But time has passed.

Nautilus pieture day was the beginning. "In your plaees! Where is the next group?" we heard eonstantly over the loudspeaker, as Charley's eamera elieked ineessantly. Then, too, we remember Nautilus Night whieh provided an evening of entertainment, while furnishing poeket money for those hurried ealls to the photographer, and extra bottles of glue.

Deadlines have eome and gone. There were many anxious and thrilling moments as the Nautilus began to grow. The staff toiled endlessly to eapture as many of the happier moments of the year as possible.

The enjoyment of eompiling the 1954 Nautilus belongs to this year's staff. But the future enjoyment of the Nautilus is everyone's to possess as we read it in years to eome.

Four-forty-five a.m. . . . copy's edited, typed, and marked for column width and point size . . . galley sheets are proof-read . . . layout is finished, dummy pasted up. Now —headlines to write . . . a picture for that hole on front page . . . half the copy for front page still out, too — deadlines must be met if we are to get this paper out by Wednesday night.

From the time of assignments in Prof. Span.'s journalism class to the time of sliding the sheet under dorm doors and mailing all those subscriptions, we have learned a great deal about journalism. Selling ads and subscriptions, writing a news story lead or headline, planning a feature story or layout or trying to revolutionize campus rules or opinions with an editorial — we've learned a lot about people, too.

DELTAS

Forty new students got started in the right direction this year by following our Delta policeman's whistle beckoning them to obey the traffic light flashing "Go Delta." They helped to boost the Deltas to the largest society on campus.

Our Delta calendar of social events this year included a sleigh ride in the New England winter wonderland and a boat cruise on the bay in the Spring.

But it was not only the big events which linger in our memories, for we will not soon forget our Delta society meetings with the encouraging remarks of our president, our singing Delta cheerleaders' undying faith, and our inspiring Delta prayer meetings on the top floor of the Canterbury where we shared our burdens and our victories.

KAPPAS

More new students were "Sold on the Kappas" this year than on any other society. On Rush Day the large Kappa cash register was ringing up sales right and left.

We surprised the football spectators in the fall with a full cheering section complete with a Kappa band. Our after-dinner programs on Thursday night presented various kinds of talent; we'll especially remember the cowgirl duet.

Our Kappa prayer meetings proved to be blessings and a factor which bound us more closely together in our friendships and in our play.

But we wouldn't come to the end of this year without mentioning our Spring outing which made us feel all the more that we're glad we're Kappas.

SIGMAS

That the Sigma spirit is never defeated was proved over and over again this year. Rush Day saw the fewest number of students riding through the Sigma tunnel of love, which made our society the smallest at E.N.C.

But the Sigma enthusiasm was high as we got off to an early start in social activities with a hay ride last fall. Our loyalties were more closely united as we cheered our teams to victory and to championship. Then in the Spring we climaxed our fellowship at an outing at the Blue Hills.

Our Sigma Sam and Sigma Sal waiters and waitresses made our freshman welcoming dinner more interesting. Our prayer meetings, our society meetings, our cheering sections, and all our work together has helped to make this a successful year for the Sigmas.

ZETAS

The Zetas were the "surprise society" this year after the Rush Day lists were tallied. Fifty-two window shoppers were attracted to the Zeta showcase and signed a contract with the Zetas for four years.

Among the outstanding social events of the year, we Zetas will remember our boat ride just before school closed, and the feeling of unity which we sensed as we sang hymns upon the water.

The calm and skillful playing of our team members led us to many victories and championships. How could we forget our Zeta cheerleaders' war cry?

The year passed all too quickly and we were sorry to see our seniors graduate, but we are looking forward to even better years with the Zetas!

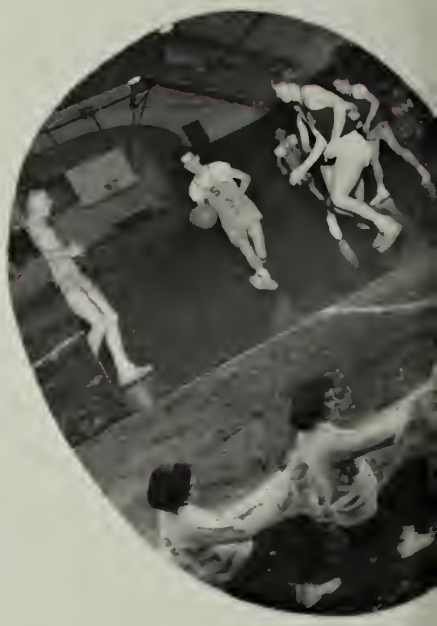
"N" CLUB



"N" CLUB

Whether on the gridiron or on the court, there's always something doing in E. N. C.'s athletic program.

In the fall, along with the regular football season, were the men's singles and doubles tennis tournaments.

This year, with the appointment of our new athletic director, Mr. Bradley, we had an added interest in soccer and volleyball.

With winter came basketball and ping-pong, followed by softball and the spring tennis tournaments.

The "N" Club, E. N. C.'s honor society of athletics, is responsible for many of the improvements in our athletic program. The new football uniforms, the time clock in the gym, and paid referees at our basketball games are a few of the benefits we receive from this active organization.

This year, with the proceeds from its annual sale of tickets, the "N" Club purchased new basketball uniforms for the All-E. N. C. Squad.

Flooring a squad of veterans, E. N. C. was able to eke out a 72-65 win over its tradition rival, Cordon College, in the first of the two annual games played.

The game was closely contested; however, brilliant teamwork, coupled with a depth of reserve strength was more than enough to enable our boys to take the lead over the E. N. C. opposers.

Holding only a slight edge at half-time, veteran observers anxiously awaited the outcome of the second half. But coach Bradley kept fresh men in at all times, and E. N. C. really went into action to maintain its lead through the rest of the game.

Good sportsmanship on the floor and intense spectator interest from the sidelines, highlighted the game.

FOOTBALL

With the near emergence of its first undefeated team since 1949, E.N.C.'s 1953 football season was a success.

The lone defeat handed the Sigmas came from the Zetas in their final game The Kappas aided the Sigma's cause by defeating the Green and Gold in their final tilt.

The Deltas, riddled by the loss of players, failed to win a game in spite of their fighting spirit.

In the annual ALL-STAR game, the first team, with only one hold-over from last year's squad, went down to defeat.

The first team was composed of Wayne Speakman, captain and only returning veteran, Jim Couchenour, Karl Retter, Wes Chambers, Oscar Eller and Ron Parsons.

The second team was made up of Dick Heinlein, Dave MacSaveney, Dave MacGrew, Roy Quanstrom, Joe Williamson, and Don Booth.

A season's title depending on the outcome of the final game, cheerleaders at every game, increased spectator interest – such was E.N.C.'s 1953 football season.

ALL-STAR GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The E. N. C. All-Star girls once again won a decisive victory in a 74-45 point lead over the Gordon College lassies in their annual basketball contest.

Our fast-moving forward line drove through the Gordon defense, while our very efficient guards kept the Gordon forwards away from the basket. Spectacular team-work plus Mabel Brown's well-aimed shots, and the brilliant plays by Doris Biggs and Blanche Gery, racked up the points for E. N. C.

Debate Team

The debate team's trips to Emerson, Tufts, and M.I.T. brought a second place, a tie for third, individual awards, and special recognition to E.N.C. this year. Economic theories, high tariffs, and foreign aid composed the constructive speeches and rebuttals. Coffee and doughnuts between rounds, and the meeting of old debaters gave minutes of relaxation, although tough breaks, tension of results, revising of cases, changing of partners, and unanswerable arguments gave the debaters their headaches. Long late hours of practice, clear thinking and reasoning, a determination to win, plus God's help and blessing, characterized E.N.C.'s debaters this year.

Student Herbert Dodge's coaching, Senior Carolyn McEachern's ability and winning way, novice debater Joe Williamson's reasoning and history major, Jeanette Morehead's years of debating experience, Frosh Ruth Kyer's hard work and smile, John Rigden's outstanding individual award, Bob Brigg's enthusiasm, Dave Daniels' logical thinking, and Dallas Mucci's determination, were all found on E.N.C.'s two debate teams this year.

HOUSE COUNCIL

Ruth Keffer proved to be an efficient president of the House Council, whose first activity of the school year was the sponsorship of "Open House." Members of the Council were in charge of a short program held in the Dining Hall, including the skit, "The Funeral of Grandfather Clock and Baby Ben." Later, prizes were awarded for the best rooms in both boys' and girls' dormitories.

The Council sponsored the Saturday and Sunday after-dinner prayer meetings for the entire student body. These were always a blessing to those who attended.

A Christmas tree, mistletoe, window paintings were the decorations for the Munro Hall parlor during the Christmas holidays.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

From Nigeria to Puerto Rico, and Prince Edward Island to Japan, students of different languages, races, religions and interests enter the doors of E.N.C. together. Here they learn to work, study, and play together on a basis of friendship, understanding and equality. We have found it very interesting and enlightening to learn first-hand the varied customs and folkways characteristic of each land. Goodnaturedly we rib each other about 'that Southern brogue," or that "definite Canadian accent." But we are sure that our outlook has been greatly broadened, and our understanding and toleration sharpened, by coming in contact with these students "from other lands."

WENC

Six-thirty A.M. – Signal – "This is WENC, your college radio station." Thus WENC announced the beginning of a new day. A sprinkle of music, news, time, humor, and devotions woke the ENC'ers up for breakfast and classes.

Ten-thirty P.M. – WENC entertained, informed, and occupied the students for an hour with laughs on "Willie and Moose," drama on Joy's "Scrips and Scraps," music on "Classical Album," the latest hits on Ruth's "Turntable Terrace," all interspersed with campus news.

Thanks to Shirley Haselton, director; Dick Krutenat and Curtis Witte, technical directors; and many talented students, WENC was rebuilt, scheduled, and put on the map this year.

Our Pastor's Message

My Dear Friends:

We believe that the things of lasting importanee in eollege days, as in all of life, are the things of the spirit. Saint Paul, in his memorable "Hymn of Love" (I Corinthians 13) has made this very clear indeed. "Whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away," says the apostle; "and now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love." And faith, hope, and love—these things which abide — belong to man's inner life, his life in the sight of God.

This College which we love and serve is founded on the principle of the primacy of things spiritual. Amid all the busy activities of College we hold that the vital core of life must be nourished by the eternal truth of God revealed to us in Christ Jesus, our Redeemer and Lord. The eentral place in our lives held by the gospel and the church rests upon this essential truth. We hope that it has taken increasing hold upon eaeh of you during your student days, and that your whole life will be dedicated to the prineiple that to seek first God's kingdom and His righteousness is to have every other needful thing. God bless you.

Faithfully, your pastor,

J. GLENN GOULD

CHURCH CHOIR

This year the church choir continued to provide inspiration and blessing for each of the church services. Faithful support to the revivals and speeial meetings meant benefit to all who listened.

Unique arrangements of old favorites and exultant anthems were included in its repertoire. Under the effieient direetion of Prof. Paul Willwerth, choir members practieed faithfully to eontribute an indispensable part of worship and praise.

Front Row (Seated): A. Hesemeyer, Pres.; J. Stratton, Rep. at large; R. Bown, Sec.-Treas.; R. Loomis, V. Pres. Second Row (Standing): W. Sever, Rep. at large; D. Grosse, song leader.

It has been the aim and desire of the local N.Y.P.S. to furnish weekly programs that would help each of the local attenders to grasp spiritual truths, to have an opportunity for the expression of their own personal experiences, and to enjoy the fellowship of other young people.

Our greatest achievement of the year was to inaugurate, in conjunction with the General N.Y.P.S. program, a series of study-units centering around such subjeets as the Manual of the Chureh of the Nazarene, Christian Ethies, and Youth Leadership. These study units were made alive by the active part all played in forums, debates, and open diseussion.

This new emphasis in our N.Y.P.S. has brought us nearer to fulfilling the object of sueh a soeiety as stated in the Manual, that we "build up our members in Christian experienee and in holy character, and . . . instruct them in the doetrines of the ehurch, and . . . bring about the salvation of other young people."

As the strains of the "Hallelujah Chorus" filled the E.N.C. auditorium, once again the story of Christ was told in the music of Handel's "The Messiah." Since 1934, the combined choirs of E.N.C., the A Cappella, the Meistersingers, and Church choir, have presented annually this triumphant oratorio.

Capacity audiences year after year have shown their appreciation for this rendition. From all over New England, various guests enjoy the immortal music under the directorship of Mrs. Esther Williamson. The college orchestra vividly adds background to the chorus numbers besides its beautiful interpretation of the "Pastoral Symphony."

Throughout the entire work, the spirit of Christ is exemplified. As the birth of Christ is foretold, His life on earth, and Resurrection, the participants sing His message to all those that hear the arias and solos. Their spirits testify that " . . . His yoke is easy, and His burthen is light."

BAND

The main purpose of the Student Ministerial Association is to acquaint its members with the calling which they have accepted. Realizing the seriousness, yet the greatness and glory of preparation for future service as ministers, these upperclassmen share with each other a band of fellowship because of their mutual aims and goals.

At intervals through the year, visiting ministers lectured on subjects pertinent to a successful life of ministry.

STUDENT MISSIONARY SOCIETY COUNCIL

The purpose of the Student Missionary Society is to spread missionary knowledge, to pray for the mission fields, and to enlist consecrated lives for missionary service.

Organizing prayer groups for each mission field and writing letters to missionaries, conducting missionary programs over WENC, and preparing a missionary songbook; these were some of the means by which the group worked to achieve its purpose this year.

Each Thursday the Society met to study the mission fields and to pray. They were challenged by the needs of other lands as they listened to Miss Esther Thomas, a missionary from Africa, and other speakers.

The Student Missionary Society also worked with the Prospective Missionary Society to raise money for the Thanksgiving and Easter offerings.

"Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he would send forth labourers into his harvest."

PROSPECTIVE MISSIONARY SOCIETY

To serve Christ at home and abroad is the goal of the Prospective Missionary Society.

Writing personal letters to missionaries, filling alabaster boxes, sending hundreds of pounds of clothing to the foreign fields, and organizing a Prayer and Fasting League were some of the activities of the group this year. A special Christmas project was to distribute boxes of food and clothing to home missionary pastors in the area.

The Prospective Missionaries are preparing to those who have never heard about Christ "to open their eyes and to turn them from darkness to light."

EVANGELISTIC ASSOCIATION

The primary aim of the Evangelistic Association this year has been "to preach the gospel" in Boston and other surrounding communities.

A Sunday School work begun last year in Boston has developed into the Boston Nazarene Chapel. Designed particularly to meet the spiritual needs of the families in the area, this enterprise has included extensive visitation, an organized Sunday School, and two preaching services. Many who attend are sent to the nearby missions which are equipped to meet their food and housing problems.

With the increase of interest in these services, we hope to accomplish the establishment-in-the-faith of the men and women who are saved through our ministry.

PHOTOGRAPHER . . .

The responsibility associated with such a title is no small task.

A College Annual without photographs would indeed be dull.

Therefore, we have tried to fulfill our photographic assignment with the careful attention necessary to assure you a pleasant and lasting memory of your days at E.N.C.

The HARVARD STUDIO

Official Photographer
from 1947 through 1954

669 BOYLSTON STREET BOSTON, MASS.

ESPECIALLY FOR YOU . . .

- The making of College Annuals takes far longer than you think.
- The co-ordination of photography, art work, engraving, printing and binding was entrusted to our skilled craftsmen who have been making college annuals for nearly a quarter of a century.
- Together with the staff who have served you so well, we too share in the satisfaction of completing this book . . .

Especially for YOU
